MLAA16 Gala Night

Honouring Vision, Innovation and Excellence in Landscape Architecture

The Institute of Landscape Architects Malaysia (ILAM) invites submissions for the 17th Malaysia Landscape Architecture Awards (MLAA17). The awards recognise outstanding projects, research and initiatives that improve the places we live in, strengthen communities and care for the environment.

Entries are welcome from Malaysia and abroad, subject to the eligibility requirements of each category. ILAM invites landscape architecture practices, developers, researchers, students, contractors, suppliers, public agencies, non-profit organisations to submit their work. Projects or works that have previously received an MLAA award in the same category are not eligible for resubmission in that category.

Award recipients will be celebrated at the MLAA17 Gala Night, scheduled for mid 2027 in Kuala Lumpur. Selected award-winning works will be featured in the upcoming Landscape Architecture Malaysia Yearbook 2027.

Award Focus

INSTITUTE OF LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTS MALAYSIA (ILAM) mynbs Nature-based Solutions

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

The Malaysia Landscape Architecture Awards will emphasize Nature-based Solutions (NBS) and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG2030) as key drivers for the landscape architecture industry in Malaysia.

Projects will be assessed not only on their creative design concepts and planning but also on the effective integration of NBS and SDG at every scale. This shift aims to highlight efforts that prioritize sustainability that will contribute to a greener and more resilient future.

Live Judging

Live judging requires entrants in designated categories to present their work to the jury. It gives entrants the opportunity to explain the thinking behind their submissions and practise presenting their ideas clearly within a set time.

New Award Categories and Judging Criteria

For MLAA17, the organising team has revised the award categories and adjusted the weighting of the judging criteria to reflect current industry needs. The changes recognise the work the profession needs today and encourage approaches that will shape the future of landscape architecture.

Reassignment of Entries

The MLAA17 Organising Team and Jury reserve the right to reassign an entry to a category that better matches its scope and eligibility requirements. If the proposed category carries a different entry fee, the entrant will be contacted to confirm their agreement and make arrangements for any fee adjustment before the reassignment is finalised.

3A Landscape Development Awards

(Malaysian/International Project)

These awards recognise completed developments in which the developer has made landscape architecture an integral part of the project. Entries may range from residential, commercial and mixed-use developments to campuses, parks, waterfronts and urban regeneration projects.

The jury assesses how well the developer has translated the landscape vision into a built project, including the quality of construction and the results achieved through nature-based solutions. Entries should demonstrate how the development supports public access and inclusion, benefits communities and contributes to the local economy. The jury also considers how the landscape is maintained over time and what monitoring shows about its performance.

3B Landscape Master Plan Awards

(Malaysian/International Project)

These awards recognise developer-led master plans that use landscape to shape the layout and future development of a site. Entries may be unbuilt or partially implemented and can include townships, green infrastructure networks, regional parks, conservation areas and urban renewal projects.

The jury assesses the strength of the landscape vision, how the plan connects habitats and integrates nature-based solutions, and how it addresses community needs, access and connectivity. Entries should explain which site challenges the landscape strategy addresses, how it fits into the wider development and what benefits it is expected to deliver. The jury also considers what makes the proposal distinctive and how that originality gives the development a clear sense of place.

Entry Criteria

Malaysian /International Project

- The official entrant must be from a Developer Firm.
- Projects are not limited to Malaysia. They may cover projects completed outside Malaysia which were undertaken by the developer and demonstrate the involvement of ILAM members.
- ILAM Corporate Member (LAr.) endorsement of the entry is required.

Judging Criteria

- Landscape vision and delivery commitment 20%
- Environmental performance and NBS outcomes 20%

(Malaysian Project)

The Landscape Construction Awards recognise Malaysian landscape contractors who bring a landscape architect's design to life through sound construction and high-quality workmanship. Entries must be completed projects in Malaysia, designed and endorsed by a member of the Institute of Landscape Architects Malaysia (ILAM).

The jury assesses the quality of workmanship and finishes, compliance with technical requirements, and how well the landscape works and planting have been carried out. It also considers site management, safety and quality control, as well as environmental sustainability and resource efficiency. The completed landscape should be durable, function as intended and be ready for ongoing maintenance. The jury may visit selected projects as part of the assessment.

Note:
If a site visit is required for a project outside the Klang Valley, the submitting contractor will bear the cost of the visit for at least two jury members.

Entry Criteria

- Must be a landscape construction work designed by ILAM member (Corporate, Graduate, Foreign Member) from the Landscape Consultancy Firm which was involved in the submitted project.
- Endorsement of the ILAM Corporate Member (LAr.) is required.
- Project Client endorsements of the entry are required.

10A Regenerative Landscape Management Awards

The Regenerative Landscape Management Awards recognise completed projects in Malaysia that demonstrate how ongoing care can restore ecological health and improve landscape performance over time.

The jury considers how management plans are put into practice, how maintenance adapts to changing site conditions, and what measurable improvements have been achieved in ecological health and resource efficiency. It also considers how the landscape supports community participation and user wellbeing.

Entry Criteria

- Open to all, including developers, Joint Management Bodies (JMBs), government agencies, park owners and operators, and landscape architecture firms.
- Entries must be for completed projects in Malaysia. Eligible sites include parks, national parks and environmentally sensitive areas.
- Entries must include a landscape management plan and demonstrate how it has been put into practice to support sustainable landscape management.
- The management plan may be prepared by the entrant or its management team. Preparation or endorsement by a landscape architect is not required.

Judging Criteria

- Management plan, roles and resourcing 25%
- Maintenance delivery and adaptive management 25%
- Measured ecological and resource performance 25%
- Resilience and site-appropriate design 15%
- Community engagement and user well-being 10%

Submission Requirements

- PowerPoint Presentation or PDF
  (landscape orientation; maximum 30 slides)
- Executive Summary (max 100 words, on an A4 page)
- Photos or Diagrams (JPG or PNG)
- Completed Submission Details Form
- Video

Entry Fees

RM 2,500 / submission
RM 1,000 / submission (ILAM Registered Firm)

NOTE:
The judging criteria serve as a guide. The jury may amend them if necessary.
